THE CARPENTERS

OF

"FORT CARPENTER

1746 - 1949

- by -

Mary Evelyn Harlow Carpenter

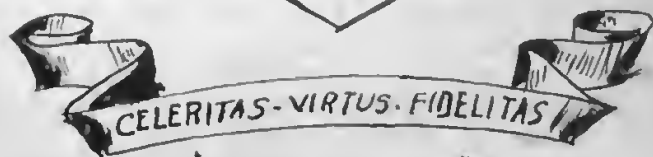

Covington, Va.

(This book was loaned to me by Mrs. J.H. (Elizabeth Spotts "Tot Harlow) Bell in February or March, 1952. The following excerpt taken from this book, and a resume genealogical record is in the following pages. Some references from Chalkey Court records of Augusta Co., Va., and from Morton's History of Alleghany Co., Va. will be added to the records to round out some family lines. A resume was typed by J.H. Arbuckle of Clovis, Cal., in March, 1952.)

CELERITAS VIRTUS FIDELITAS

CARPENTER COAT OF ARMS

Carpenter

CARPENTER COAT OF ARMS

Carpenter, as a surname, is of occupational origin, meaning "the carpenter", from the Old French CARPENTIER, a worker in wood. In England, the name appears very frequently in the hundred names of various English counties. (Bardsley: Dict. of Eng. & Welsh Names)
A John Carpenter was living in the county named, 1500. He was a member of parliament in 1523 of the borough Newark in Cornwall. In 1509, a Samuel Carpenter was a member of parliament from Cornwall. Later on in history, a John Carpenter was town clerk of London in 1442. The first known record of a Carpenter emigrant coming to America, was a William Carpenter who came from Ireland to Weymouth, Mass. in 1638. (Americana Magazine, April 1939)

Carpenter, Coat of Arms, from Burke's "General Armory": Argent (silver), a greyhound passant, and chief Sable (black). Crest - a greyhound's head, erased per fesse sable and argent. Motto - Celorita, virtue, fidelitas.

The parentage of the Carpenter brothers who settled on Jackson river in 1746 is unknown. Tradition coming down in the family of the original ancestor who came to America came from Ireland, settled in the state of New York, probably when the great influx of the Scotch-Irish came from 1725 to 1750.

Joseph Carpenter came down from New York alone, staked out a claim on Jackson's river, just below where Covington is today located, planted a crop, then returned home and brought back his family. Peter Wright who staked out a claim where the town of Covington is located came along with him. Very likely his other brothers, Salmon and Zopher, came with him then. There was a Nicholas Carpenter, no doubt a younger brother, came down about 1750 and stake out a claim where White Sulphur Springs in Greenbrier County.

Mrs. Carpenter in her book was somewhat confused in some of the children of these four brothers, so I have referred to my own Chalkley Records of Augusta Co., Va., Thwaites edition of Withers "Chronicles of Border Warfare", Kegley's "Virginia Frontier" of 2. Mortons histories of Bath and Alleghany Counties, Va., for more details, and have unraveled some of them. Proper reference will be given, if not in Mrs. Carpenters book. Also I have added a few families of the female lines in some of the earlier generations that I happen to have.

sometime before 1790, with other ~~xxxxxx~~ Bath County people moved to Elk river in Monganella Co. (now Braxton Co.) about 12 miles from the present town of Sutton. This was in the central part of the state of W.Va., and in dangerous Indian country. In 1791, Nicholas Carpenter (whom I consider a son of Nicholas that was killed at St. Carpenter in 1786) was with others driving a herd of cattle from Monganella Co. to Mariatta, Ohio to market. About 4 miles from their destination they camped for the night. About the next morning, the Indians attacked the camp. Nicholas and his young son waded out into a lake to escape detection, but they were seen and both killed. In 1793, the Indians raided the settlement in Monganella Co., Ben Carpenter, brother of Jeremiah, was killed with his wife and their cabin burned. (Wither's "Border Warfare", pages 399 and 414.) Jeremiah Carpenter and his wife with others hid in a cave across the river where brother Benn was murdered, and they staid here till the Indians left. Jeremiah Carpenter was always called Dr. Carpenter, for when he was with the Indian, he learned how to use various herbs for healing sickness, and used it treating the white people where he lived.

Dr. Carpenter's wife gave birth to a son, Saul, about the time that Ben Carpenter and wife were murdered by the Indians. When Saul became grown and married he had a son William, who lived to be 94 years old before he died. He was always known as "Squirrel Bill Carpenter", for he was a great hunter. Thirty or 40 years ago Andrew Price of Marlinton, W.Va. author of the "Pohantus Times", wrote an article about Squire Bill when he died.

2. Zopher Carpenter -
Res. Mallow, Va.

M. Ezenias

During the French and Indian War Zopher was drummer boy in Dickinson's rangers 1787-1789 (Kegley, p. 358). He owned land north of Jackson's river opposite the mouth of Potts creek. There is no record left of any children, except a daughter, Elizabeth, who married 1778, David Glassburn, and they were given a deed to 1.0 acres of land north of Jackson's river, and they sold it to a Michael Mallow. The name of Zopher's wife is mentioned in Kegley, Vol. 2, p. 417. - no other record of him or descendants.

2. Nicholas Carpenter -

- Sept. 1780 m. Kate

Heb. 1780, where White Sulphur Springs, W.Va. is today. He could be come south from New York 2 or 3 years after his marriage. For he killed a claim for 500 acres on land where White Sulphur Springs, W.Va. is now located. He he built his home. After during the Indian raids, he fled with his wife and children to the Jackson's river settlements. going uneasy on the way, he and his wife and baby, Frances in a mountain hideout, and continued to stay there with his older children. He reached there safely. But when the Indians raided St Young he was killed in the battle. Nicholas Carpenter's son says all his children were killed to, out according to historical records a Carpenter children were taken captives by the Indians (Chalk, Vol. 2, p. 311 "Preston papers" and also Morton's Bath Co., Va., p. 32). Three of these children were sons of Solomon Carpenter Sr., so the other two must have been those of Nicholas.

Kate Carpenter and her baby Frances expected Nicholas to return but he never did, so she managed to get to Staunton, Va. The mountain on which she did today bears her name, "Kate Mountain" known children:

1. Frances Carpenter - - 1784 m. Capt. Michael Boyer d. 1811

In 1782, Kate Carpenter ~~signed~~, relict of Nicholas Carpenter signed a release to her dowry to the 950 acres in Greenbrier county (Chalk, Vol. 3, p. 365). Fanny married Boyer in 1780. After her mother gave Boyer a deed to the Greenbrier land, he moved there and built his home. They had one daughter, Fanny Boyer, who married William Bedford. When Fanny Bedford inherited the property after Boyer's death in 1809, they named the place "Briarfield".

A quite an interesting story of this property, Lt. Col. Boyer and descendants, later owners of the property, and its history in Mrs. Dayton's book "Greenbrier Pioneers and their Homes". Mrs. Carpenter in her book, did not give all the names of the Boyer children, so I will give a brief resume of this article of Mrs. Dayton.

Michael Boyer was a son of Lt. Col. William Boyer ~~xxxxx~~ a merchant of Staunton, Va. whose first wife was a dau. of Israel Christian, and second wife was Margaret Ann Lewis-McClanahan widow of John McClanahan who was a brother of Robert McClanahan who was killed at Ft. Pleasant in 1774, and daughter of Thomas Lewis son of John Lewis. Michael Boyer II was a lawyer by profession, and a Rev. war soldier. He married Fannie Carpenter in 1766.

Michael Boyer lived in Staunton till after his wife's death in 1784, then came to Greenbrier Co. and settled on the Carpenter lands. He had four children - James, Mary, Fannie, and Elizabeth. James, the oldest, inherited all of his father's property, but being a fair minded person, divided some of the property to his three sisters. Around 200 acres upon which the Springs were located, he made an inheritance for which all would receive equal benefits.

Mary Boyer married James Caldwell of Baltimore, Mo., who was formerly a sea merchant. He was a man of means, and in 1810 bought out all the other heirs of the Carpenter property, then built a hotel at the Springs and called it "Briarfield". It was not long till the place became a popular Summer-resort. In 1858, the property changed ownership according to Mrs. Dayton's article, but she did not say who. Anyway the property was run on a more elaborate scale, catering more to the wealthy people. Mrs. Dayton does not state who the owners were till the Chesapeake and Ohio railway acquired the property in 1921-23, and name the place "White Sulphur Spring".

Mrs. Carpenter in her book, stated in her book that A. E. Hudson bought the place in 1894 and name the place "Belle Plain".

Fanny Boyer married William Bedford. No mention is made in the article, except her brother James Boyer gave her 200 acres of the Carpenter estate.

Elizabeth Boyer married John Copeland. She inherited 200 acres of the Carpenter estate, west of the Springs along the turnpike. Mrs. Copeland at that time a widow erected a dignified residence on her property and named it "Briarfield". In 1830 she conveyed the property to her son John H. Copeland, and in 1870 he conveyed it to Col. Joel McPherson.

res. St. Carpenter, Alle. Co., Va.

Joseph Carpenter came down from New York to the Jackson river region in 1740 and staked out a tract of 742 acres on the south side at the mouth of Folia creek. Then he returned back home and brought his family down, and probably his brothers Solomon and Joseph and Peter Wright came down with him. He had quite a family of children, probably some of them grown when he came. He built a fort, known as St. Carpenter, and here made his home.

He was a man of considerable influence in his community.
In the French and Indian war, all the Carpenters brothers were some were slain in the battle of the Clouds.

probably she lived several years after he moved to the Jackson's river home, for in 1708, he married 2nd. a Mrs. Judith Scott, widow of John Scott and had 3 small children -- Joseph, James, and John Scott (Chalk.vol.1,p.116). Joseph Carpenter was living in 1710, for he had a law suit with Edward McMullen over a land mortgage on 160 acres of land, and William Mudgett bought it at a public sale. His signature was on the document.

(Joseph Carpenter may have married Judith Scott in 1701 for he was appointed guardian of John Scott's orphans (Chalk.vol.3,p.24; and and Benjamin Scott, administrator of John Scott in Mar.1704, stating that Joseph Carpenter married Judith Scott previously (Chalk.vol.1,p.63).

11.5 Joseph Carpenter 1.5 - 1746 - Res.

Nothing in Mrs. Carpenter's book, except as is a son of Joseph 1.5, 1.5. Gives any record of Joseph 1.5. To keep all the Joseph's straight, I will number them accordingly as 1.5.5, and so on, but not all are sons of a Joseph, except in some instances) in Chickney, vol. 2, p. 221, date 1843. It says when he was a boy, he staid at the home of John 1.5. 7 or 8 years. At the time the testimony was given, Joseph was 73 years old. In 1760, Joseph Sr. sold or gave his son Joseph Jr. 400 acres of land.

According to the above reference, Joseph would have been 10 years old, when the Indians raised carpenters lost on Jackson's River. It is said that a Joseph Carpenter was taken captive by the Indians but somehow he escaped from them (Morton's Aids, vol. 1, p. 100) no doubt this is the Joseph Carpenter referred to.

Morton in his Aids, vol. 1, p. 100, says Joseph, a Jr. died in 1794, ~~XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX~~ Morton is very confused in the Carpenter relationships, and his relationship cited up worse than in Mrs. Carpenter's book, so I will take Mrs. Carpenter's data as correct. No satisfactory explanation can be given about what or where he lived, so I will record him any further.

11.6 3. Frances Carpenter - M. John Mann
 Res. Covington, Va. (Rt. Young)

John Mann was a son of John Mann Sr. who came to Augusta, Co. Va. in 1746, and settled near Statton, Va., and died 1791. John Sr. had 4 sons -- James who died 1760, and John became his heir, William and Thomas who were both killed in 1761. (under 21). All these Mann brothers were in the French and Indian war and were stationed at Ft. Young. (Probably around 1760 or so John married Frances (Chickney record says 1761). John served in the militia that took part in Gen. Bouquet's army that crushed the Indian menace in 1764. Shortly after he returned home, or in the same year, he died. In 1762, he bought 200 acres of land from his father in law in his original land grant. In the latter part of the Rev. war, three of his children ~~XXXXXXXX~~, Moses, John, and John, were in Capt. John Boler's Rangers, two of his grand children were a William Mann m. 1805 Nancy Caldwell, and Jane Mann m. 1779, a Michael Woolley.

2-Joe, p.4

11.7 5. Herman Carpenter - M. Jeremiah Seeley
 Res. Covington, Va. (C-1-269)

Jeremiah Seeley came from New York to Jackson's River in 1746, probably along with Joseph Carpenter. He was according to records quite a prominent man. He was Capt. both in the French and Indian war and in the Rev. war. In the lawsuit, 1803 (C-2-79) between John Strother and Joseph Thompson vs. John Oliver's heirs, it states that the plaintiff had a tract of land surveyed in the Falling Spring valley, and also made a survey for Jeremiah Seeley.

ment Seely was having for the army. Seely never returned, so the land grant in Falling Spring valley was sold in 1792 to a William Bonner. (Chaff. vol. 3, p. 79). (I will say that this said William Bonner is the ~~xxxxxx~~ ancestor of the Bonners of the Bonners of Bath and Alleghany counties today. J.H.A.) Whether Jeremiah Seely had any children is unknown. For no record is left in history records of any.

Res. Covington, Va.

He was the only son of his father that did not leave home. After his father's death the home place was left to him. He lived the life of a gentleman farmer and was considered a man of good standing in his community. C. F. Morton in his Alleghany co. Va. history says that two Samuel Carpenters served in the state legislature. On page 149, a Samuel Carpenter served almost continuously from 1809 to 1817. Samuel Carpenter Sr. died in 1843, so he must have served two terms from 1839 to 1841.

NOTE: Before further progress with the record, I will give a short sketch of the Persinger family, both the Senior and the Junior Jacob Persingers. They are not related, except by adoption, and both had quite large families of children, and some of the descendants of both intermarried with the Carpenter family.

JOSEPH PERSINGER SR. - from Morton's Hist. co. p. 134
These brothers, Christina, Philip, and Jacob Persinger migrated from Rockingham Co., Va. to Greenbrier in 1751, and staked out claims. A few years they were driven out by the Indians. In 1760, Jacob was the executor of Philip, and as Christina was not living in 1760, it is a fair inference that both lost their lives in the Indian war. Christina was married and left a daughter Barbara. Jacob, too had a marriageable dau. in 1762, but sometime after 1760 he married a widow, Mrs. Catherine Spence. Seems like this Jacob during the French and Indian war went back to Rocking Co., and did not return till 1771, and settled down in the Jackson river region.

When a young man he went to work with his Uncle Capt. John Carpenter, a Civil engineer, for the N. & W. railway in Bluefield, W. Va. and worked with him off and on for 14 years. Later he was connected with wholesale grocery supply Cos. in Staunton and Richmond, Va. After his marriage, he lived for a year in Charleston, W. Va., then became the Supt. for the Empire Steel and Iron Co. in Huddleston, Bedford Co., Va. Around 1900, he moved to Birmingham, Ala., and became manager for another Iron and Steel Co. In 1902, on account of his health with malaria, he returned to Covington, Va. and became associated with the Low Moor Iron Co., near there. In 1910, in partnership with Wm. McD. McAllister and Robert Parrish, they established the Covington Wholesale Grocery bus. and he was the manager till 1946, when he had to retire on account of his health. Samuel Carpenter, No. 4, sold the Carpenter homestead to Andrew Judge who gave it to his daughter, Mrs. William H. Gilliam, who later sold it to the Childs family. In 1928, Joseph H. Carpenter and his son in law, Vance and Mountcastle bought the property back from the Childs family and made it their home, each having their separate homesteads.

 John A. Preston was a son of Rev. David A. and Jeannette Creigh.
 He was a Presbyterian minister who preached in Florida and Va., his ill health forced him to retire, so he settled on a farm near Lewisburg, W. Va., and here John A. was born.

John A. Preston at the age of 17 in 1865 joined the Confederate army... but after the war, he resumed his studies at the Wash. & Lee Univ. at Lexington, Va., and was admitted to the bar in 1873.
 After graduation he returned to Lewisburg and began the practice of law with his father-in-law, Samuel Price. His first wife died in 1862, and in Feb. 1892, he married again Miss Lillie Davis, dau.
 of John J. Davis of Clarksburg, W. Va. by her he had two other children - John J. Davis Preston and Walter Creigh Preston.

Mr. J. M. Price in conjunction with Walter P. Campbell of Highland Co., Va., Mrs. Sarah Price of Organ Cave, and Anne W. Scott of Craig City, Va., and others have in hand a lot of biographic material on the Price families living in Southern Va., Southern W. Va. and in Mo.
 See Price's Pocah. Co., p. 246.

Price Gr.p.60.

Whoever wrote this article on the Price family, surely did not read it over and make errors of correction. I will try and make a plausible story out of the jumbled up mess.

Samuel Price, the progeniture of this family in Augusta Co., Va., came from Cardiff Wales about 1765 to South Carolina. In 1748, he moved with his family to Augusta Co., Va. There were several children, but all that is known ~~was~~ by the Greenbrier descendants were three boys - Thomas, Jacob, and Samuel.

John & Jacob

John Mason Price - Oct. 7, 1864 - Aug. 17, 1912 m.

Mary Erwin - 1832 - Va

Res. Roncoverte, W. Va.

John M. Price served in the U.S.A. in Co. D, 26th Edgar Battalion, 1862. In 1862, captured at Cold Harbor May 1864, prisoner at Mairs, N.Y.; and released Feb. 1865. After the war was over, he was a merchant at Irish Corner (later, Organ Cave). In 1885, he moved to Roncoverte and established a hardware and implement store in partnership with A.E. White. In public office, he was a Justice of Peace, member of Gr. Co., court, and mayor of Roncoverte eight terms (16 yrs.)

He married 2nd. in 1882, Isabell Campbell-Williams and had one child by her.

Union of the pioneer Price pros. Thomas, Jacob, Samuel, are the parents of these Prices is impossible to determine. This chart is being made accurate as possible from the data I have at hand. Until I have more reliable data, it is impossible to complete parts of it. There may be some errors in W.T. Price Article, but most of it is reliable as far as it goes. The article in Cole's Gr., p. 63 is so ambiguously written that it is impossible to be a reliable reference.

Some of the following records will be taken from other family records that is authentic data taken from family bibles, and from letters written years ago.

Mr. Albushlee,

Mr. Albushlee.

Marlinton West-Virginia
July 5-1950

Your letter of June 20th received while I was in Washington D.C.
Many of the persons mentioned are dead and not many of the descendants left, or interested in family history.
The father history of Pocahontas becomes more interesting the years go by.
- all of his players - millions I should say, he never failed to ask for "a retentive memory." It actually was given him. He was in his 64th year at time of his death and could remember early things.
I have not yet gotten around to look over his papers and books.

I have of my own knowing of the Price family records will let you know. Are you related? In all parts of the County you find Prices.

There is a large family of Albushlee who still live on their old family homesteads in Greenbrier County West Virginia. Fighters in the Revolutionary War.

I have John Wall's mechanical book, owned by my great great grandfather Thomas Price, of Craig County through the Revolutionary War. That book if the good descendants would give up parts of it would put the history out of business. Help to you.
I would be of more help to you.
Sincerely, John Price Hunter

Andrew Sitlington, who came to America before 1760, and to the cowpasture soon after 1766, lived chiefly on the Craighead farm till his death in 1804. To relatives and friends he left some amounting to $8,000.00. Like his brother Robert he had no children. A third Sitlington was John, who lived at the mouth of Stuart's creek.
William and James were his sons. The latter was killed in the battle of Falling Spring, though not, it is said, until he had slain two or three. His scalp, identified by its yellow hair, was recovered.
William, who died in 1772, has many descendants, although the surname has for several decades been extinct both in Bath and Highland
The Sitlingtons were people of much thrift and prominence.
